DOHE Go-Together

PARTICIPATION AGREEMENT

Dear Founder

We, DOHE EUROPE LTD of 69 Station Road, Hampton, Greater London, England, TW12 2BT with company number 14914518 ("DOHE" or "we") are happy to inform you ("Participant" or "you") that your startup has been accepted for Cohort 20 of the Go-Together Accelerator Programme (the "Programme").

DOHE envisions a fairer, more compassionate and resourceful world, where everyone has more access to better education and opportunities. Our mission is to champion edtech startups to improve society. As part of this mission, DOHE offers the Programme.

The 26-week programme starts with an initiation phase, comprised of diagnoses, coach matching and objective setting, as well as preparing the grounds for the successful 20-week coaching acceleration Programme.

Additionally, based on your weekly progress and discussions with your coach and Programme manager ("Programme Manager"), you may gain access to one-on-one expert sessions, workshops, seminars and online networking events. This access will be customised to suit your specific needs and the objectives that you are actively working towards.

The Programme is a non-equity accelerator offered at no cost to participants, however we invest tens of thousands of pounds sterling per startup to provide access to experts, coaches, and resources, all in alignment with our mission.

To participate in the Programme, you are required to comply with this Participation Agreement including the terms of participation, along with the Confidential Information and Intellectual Property Rights (as defined below) policies at Annexes 1 and 2 (together, the "Agreement").

By signing this Agreement, you acknowledge and confirm that you have read this Agreement in full and agree to be bound by it.

Yours faithfully

6. COACHING SESSION

6.1. You are required to attend all pre-arranged coaching and expert consultations. Active participation in group sessions, such as workshops and seminars, is also expected. These sessions are designed to equip you with the essential tools and knowledge required to run a startup. 6.2. Coaching sessions will occur once a week, lasting no more than 1.5 hours. You must notify your coach and the Programme manager at least 24 hours in advance if you are unable to attend a scheduled session, workshop or coaching session. Any additional sessions beyond the regular schedule must be pre-approved by your coach and the Programme Manager. The timing of one-on-one sessions will be mutually agreed upon between you and your coach. Group workshops or webinars will be scheduled for all our selected groups of participants.

6.2.1. Cancelling Your Session

You are required to let us know if you need to cancel a session at least 24 hours before the session. If something unexpected happens (like an emergency or illness) and you are unable to provide the 24 hours' notice, let us know as soon as possible, and we may try to reschedule.

6.2.2. How to Cancel

Please inform the coach directly and copy the Programme Manager in the email. You'll get confirmation once your cancellation is processed.

6.2.3. What Happens if You Cancel Late or Miss a Session

If you cancel with at least 24 hours' notice, the session can be rescheduled at no additional cost.

If you cancel less than 24 hours before or fail to attend:

- First missed session: You will receive a one-time warning, and we may reschedule the session.
- Three missed sessions: You may be removed from the Programme after a review, at our sole discretion.

6.2.4. Rescheduling

If you need to reschedule, please do so at least 24 hours in advance to avoid any issues. If you reschedule with less than 24 hours' notice, the procedure set out in Clause 6.2.3 may apply.

6.3. Please note that late cancellations or no-shows will not be replaced with a rescheduled session.

6.4. If the coach needs to cancel, we may offer you priority rescheduling or you can choose to skip the session with no charges.

6.5. Throughout and following the Programme, we will stay in contact with you to monitor progress, ensure the quality of the Programme and report back to the Programme's funders. Communication may take the form of emails, electronic forms or surveys. You agree to provide honest, complete, accurate and timely feedback ("Feedback"). For the avoidance of doubt, any such Feedback shall belong to DOHE, DOHE may use the Feedback in any way (including commercial use) without any compensation to you, and DOHE may but will not be obligated to implement such Feedback.

6.6. All Participant Information may be shared by the coach with DOHE. If you do not wish for a specific piece of Participant Information to be shared with DOHE, you need to expressly communicate this to the relevant coach at the time of disclosure so that the coach does not include such Participant Information in their report to DOHE.

7. BUSINESS CHANGE

When you are considering or decide to change your project from an objective defined in the diagnosis phase, you must inform your coach and DOHE and provide, without limitation, any relevant data and a detailed rationale to support the proposed change. Such information shall allow for a collaborative review to ensure any shifts in strategy are well-informed and aligned with the overall goals of the Programme.

8. LIABILITY

8.1. Nothing in this Agreement limits or excludes the liability of either party or its employees, principals or corporate officers for death or personal injury resulting from negligence, or for its fraud, fraudulent misrepresentation, gross negligence or wilful misconduct, or any other form of liability that may not be limited by law.

8.2. To the extent possible under the applicable law, in no event shall DOHE be liable for any indirect, consequential or special loss, or for any loss of profit, loss of business or contracts, lost production or operation time, loss of data, loss of goodwill or anticipated savings, in each case whether direct or indirect, however arising (whether from breach of contract, tort (including negligence), breach of statutory duty or otherwise), whether or not such loss was foreseeable or if DOHE which would otherwise be liable for such loss was advised of its possibility.

8.3. Subject to Clauses 8.1 and 8.2, DOHE's aggregate liability under this Agreement shall not exceed £100.

9. AMENDMENTS

DOHE may modify the Agreement at any time by a notice to you.

10. NO WAIVER

A delay in exercising or failure to exercise a right or remedy under or in connection with the Agreement will not constitute a waiver of, or prevent or restrict future exercise of, that or any other right or remedy, nor will the single or partial exercise of a right or remedy prevent or restrict the further exercise of that or any other right or remedy.

11. INVALIDITY

If any provision of the Agreement is found by any court or body or authority of competent jurisdiction to be illegal, unlawful, void or unenforceable in whole or in part, the parties agree that the invalid or unenforceable provisions shall be amended in a manner so as to best accomplish the objectives of the original provision to the fullest extent allowed by law, and the remaining provisions will continue in full force and effect.

12. NO THIRD-PARTY RIGHTS

Except as expressly provided in the Agreement, a person who is not a party to the Agreement shall not have any rights under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999 to enforce any term of the Agreement.

13. ENTIRE AGREEMENT

The Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties regarding the subject hereof and supersedes all prior or contemporaneous agreements, understandings and communications between the parties, whether written or oral. Each party acknowledges that, in entering into the Agreement, it does not rely on, and shall have no remedies in respect of, any representation or warranty (whether made innocently or negligently) that is not set out in the Agreement.

14. GOVERNING LAW AND JURISDICTION

14.1. The Agreement and any dispute or claim arising out of or in connection with it or its subject matter or formation (including non-contractual disputes or claims), shall be exclusively governed by and construed in accordance with laws of England and Wales.

14.2. The parties irrevocably consent and submit to the exclusive jurisdiction and venue of the courts of London, England in all disputes or claims arising out of or in connection with the Agreement or its subject matter or formation (including non-contractual disputes or claims).

Any such copies, reductions to writing and records shall be the property of the Discloser.

2.2. The Recipient shall establish and maintain adequate security measures to safeguard the Confidential Information from unauthorised access or use but in any event at least reasonable measures.

2.3. Information is not Confidential Information if: (i) it is, or becomes, generally available to the public other than as a direct or indirect result of the information being disclosed by the Recipient or its Representatives in breach of the Agreement (except that any compilation of otherwise public information in a form not publicly known shall still be treated as Confidential Information); (ii) it was, is, or becomes available to the Recipient on a non-confidential basis from a person who is not under any confidentiality obligation in respect of that information; (iii) it was lawfully in the possession of the Recipient before the information was disclosed by the Discloser; (iv) it was developed by the Recipient without the use of, or reference to, the Discloser's Confidential Information; or (iv) the parties agree in writing that the information is not confidential.

2.4. We recognise that trust and confidentiality between the coach and coachee is fundamental to the coaching relationship. Our activities are aligned with this principle and adhere to strict data protection and retention regulations as outlined in our Privacy Notice. We collect and process data, including coaching reports and session recordings, in compliance with GDPR guidelines to support our research initiatives. This includes enhancing 'Navigator,' our accelerator methodology, which analyses startup challenges and successes to provide tailored insights while upholding confidentiality and privacy standards.

3. PERMITTED DISCLOSURE

The Recipient may disclose the Confidential Information to its Representatives on the basis that it: (i) does so on a need to know basis; (ii) informs those Representatives of the confidential nature of the Confidential Information before it is disclosed; and (iii) procures that those Representatives comply with the confidentiality obligations in this Annex 1 as if they were the Recipient. The Recipient shall be liable for the actions or omissions of the Representatives in relation to the Confidential Information as if they were the actions or omissions of the Recipient.

4. MANDATORY DISCLOSURE

4.1. Subject to the provisions of this Clause 4, a party may disclose Confidential Information to the minimum extent required by: (i) an order of any court of competent jurisdiction or any regulatory, judicial, governmental or similar body or any taxation authority of competent jurisdiction; (ii) the rules of any listing authority or stock exchange on which its shares are listed or traded; or (iii) the laws or regulations of any country to which its affairs are subject.

4.2. Before a party discloses any Confidential Information pursuant to Clause 4.1 it shall, to the extent permitted by law, use all reasonable endeavours to give the other party as much notice of this disclosure as possible.

4.3. If a party is unable to inform the other party before Confidential Information is disclosed pursuant to Clause 4.1 it shall, to the extent permitted by law, inform the other party of the full circumstances of the disclosure and the information that has been disclosed as soon as reasonably practicable after such disclosure has been made.

5. RETURN OR DESTRUCTION OF CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

5.1. If so requested by the Discloser at any time by notice in writing to the Recipient, the Recipient shall: (i) destroy all documents and materials (and any copies) containing, reflecting, incorporating or based on the Discloser's Confidential Information; (ii) erase all the Discloser's Confidential Information from its computer and communications systems and devices used by it, or which is stored in electronic form; (iii) to the extent technically and legally practicable, erase all the Discloser's Confidential Information which is stored in electronic form on systems and data storage services provided by third parties; and (iv) certify in writing to the Discloser that it has complied with the requirements of this Clause 5.1 within ten (10) days of receiving the relevant notice.

5.2. Nothing in this Clause 5 shall require the Recipient to return or destroy any documents and materials containing or based on the Discloser's Confidential Information that the Recipient is required to retain by applicable law, or to satisfy the requirements of a regulatory authority or body of competent jurisdiction or the rules of any listing authority or stock exchange, to which it is subject. The provisions of this Annex 1 shall continue to apply to any documents and materials retained by the Recipient pursuant to this Clause 5.

6. RESERVATION OF RIGHTS AND ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

6.1. The Discloser reserves all rights in the disclosed Confidential Information. The disclosure of Confidential Information by one party does not give the other party or any other person any licence or other right in respect of any Confidential Information beyond the rights expressly set out in the Agreement.

6.2. Except as expressly stated in the Agreement, neither party makes any express or implied warranty or representation concerning the Confidential Information disclosed by it, including but not limited to the accuracy or completeness of the Confidential Information.

6.3. The disclosure of Confidential Information by the parties shall not form any offer by, or representation or warranty on the part of, that party to enter into any further agreement with the other party in relation to the Purpose.

7. INADEQUACY OF DAMAGES

Without prejudice to any other rights or remedies that each party may have, each party acknowledges and agrees that damages alone would not be an adequate remedy for any breach of this Annex 1 by the other party. Accordingly, each party shall be entitled to the remedies of injunctions, specific performance or other equitable relief for any threatened or actual breach of this Annex 1.

8. DURATION OF CONFIDENTIALITY OBLIGATIONS

Notwithstanding the end of the Purpose, each party's obligations under this Annex 1 shall continue in full force and effect for a period of three (3) years from the termination or expiration of the Purpose.

ANNEX 2

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS POLICY

1. DEFINITIONS

1.1. "Intellectual Property Rights" means (i) patents, registered trademarks, registered designs, applications and rights to apply for any of those rights; (ii) unregistered trademarks, copyright, topography rights, database rights, moral rights, Know-How, rights in designs and inventions, discovery or process, and applications for and rights to apply for any of the foregoing; (iii) trade, business and company names, domain names and e-mail addresses; (iv) rights to prevent passing off or unfair competition and copyright (whether in drawings, plans, specifications, designs and computer software or otherwise); (v) the goodwill attaching to any of the aforementioned rights; and (vi) any forms of protection of a similar nature and having equivalent or similar effect to any of them; in all the above cases, throughout the world, including countries which currently exist or are recognised in the future; and

1.2. "Know-How" means formulae, methods, plans, inventions, discoveries, improvements, processes, performance methodologies, techniques, specifications, technical information, tests, results, reports, component lists, manuals and instructions.

2. NO TRANSFER OF INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS

2.1. In connection with the Purpose (as defined in Annex 1), each party retains all right, title and interest in and to any Intellectual Property Rights owned by that party. Unless otherwise agreed by the parties in writing, no Intellectual Property Rights shall be transferred from one party to the other in connection with the Purpose.

2.2. In particular, DOHE confirms it has no intention to acquire any Intellectual Property Rights in and to your products, materials and/or tools, even whereas part of the collaborations between the parties DOHE provides input, assistance or advice. Any Intellectual Property Rights arising in developments you make to your product, materials and/or tools during the Programme shall belong to you.

3. GENERAL INSIGHTS

3.1. During the Programme, the parties may share experiences, insights and Know-How that either party has developed in the course of its business, including those developed before the commencement of the Programme. General insights may include, without limitation, views and advice on business strategy, how to deal with and overcome particular obstacles and issues, opinions on markets, developments in particular industries and wider sectors, the outcome of formal or informal market research, studies, investigations or insight gained from sales trends, product design preferences, suggestions for efficiencies and other insights and ideas which may generally be of use to a company operating in the industry and/or sector in which the parties both operate, and/or offering products of the type you or we may currently offer or intend to offer or may offer in the future ("General Insights").

3.2. This free exchange of ideas is central to the Programme and both parties may use such General Insights to advance their own products and businesses, and we may share these General Insights with other parties. Any such use of the General Insights must be on a non-attributable basis, such that neither you nor we will identify that the other was the source of any General Insight, nor provide any information to third parties which would allow the other to be identified as the source.

4. LICENSE FOR MATERIALS AND TOOLS

4.1. Each party provides to the other a revocable, non-exclusive, non-transferable, non-sublicensable, worldwide, royalty-free licence to use the other party's materials and/or tools (excluding trademarks) as necessary in connection with the Purpose.

5. PATENBALE INVENTIONS

5.1. Where the Participant provides to DOHE any materials and/or tools under the Agreement, the Participant shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless DOHE from and against all liabilities, costs, expenses, damages and losses (including all reasonable professional costs and expenses) suffered or incurred or paid by the Receiving Party in connection with any claim brought by a third party that such materials and/or tools infringe such third party's Intellectual Property Rights.

The ability to obtain a patent for an invention is subject to strict confidentiality of the invention being maintained, until the appropriate patent process is commenced. The parties therefore agree that if either party comes into the possession of any information belonging to the other which does or which may relate to a patentable invention, the strict confidentiality of that information shall be maintained and that the other party shall not take any steps which may prejudice the patentability of the invention.

6. PUBLICITY

We may use your brand, brand name, trademarks and similar publicly available Intellectual Property Rights in connection with publicising and marketing the Programme.
